MISSOULA--

High school students participating in the 12th Annual Montana Model United Nations (MMUN) this week at the University of Montana in Missoula have passed several resolutions suggesting possible solutions to world problems.

The MMUN, a simulation of the work and procedures of the UN General Assembly and five committees, is made up of about 260 student delegates from 14 Montana high schools.

The 12th Annual MMUN began Monday at UM. Concluding portions of the three-day program will be from 8:30 a.m. - noon Wednesday, Nov. 24, in the University Center Ballroom and UC Montana Rooms.

A number of UM students are coordinators of the MMUN sessions, which are open to the public without charge.

Cynthia J. Deel, Butte, a senior in anthropology at UM, who is Secretary of the General Assembly of MMUN, said proposals passed by the General Assembly include:

- Giving money to needy countries to be used to ease world hunger.
- Supporting the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty to control the use of nuclear weapons.
- Prohibiting any nation from dumping raw waste or sewage into the ocean or other waters.

The MMUN General Assembly also voted to condemn the dictatorial actions of Ugandan President Idi Amin; to reprimand the United States for failure to abide by the Rhodesian trade blockade, and to discourage nations from interfering with other nations' internal political affairs.

-more-

Delegations from each high school will be judged for the best degree of participation, realistic role portrayal and diplomacy. The winning team members will be announced Wednesday, the last day of the session.

High school students make up delegations representing 57 countries which are members of the United Nations.
